

Show goes on again for Armstrong Creek artist

It's been a long time between exhibitions, but @janickejohansen reckons it's been worth the wait. The multi-talented artist (she does sculpture, printmaking, painting and collages) has a selection of her work in Mandy Dollery's The Space gallery in Rutland St, Newtown, as part of the Clarity group exhibition, along with Claire Roussac, Jennifer Barnes and Astrid Phillips. It's definitely worth a visit.
